

Numbered

Teams work together to reach consensus on a question or problem. First they work alone to find the answer, then students stand up and put their 'heads together' to choose the team's answer. Everyone is kept on their toes because their number may be called to share the team's answer with the class.

Heads

Together