

Each student has their own pile of questions on cards. Students quiz a partner, get quizzed by a partner and then find a new partner to repeat the process. This is particularly useful for learning spelling words and numer facts. The questions can be differentiated to suit each student as the answer is on the back of each card.